

'One big step for mankind'

An afternoon with Eileen Collins, mother, wife, and NASA astronaut.

Eileen Collins (Colonel, USAF, retired) became an astronaut in July 1991, piloted the Space Shuttle during the STS-63 and STS-84 flights, and commanded the Shuttle missions STS-93 and STS-114.

Ms. Collins will present a public talk within Tel Aviv University's AstroClub on Tuesday January 31 at 15:30. The talk will take place at the Kes HaMishpat Auditorium (School of Law building). The talk will be in English and will be broadcast over the internet (<http://astroclub.tau.ac.il>).

With the cooperation of the Ministry of Science and Technology